DEATH OF DR. CUMMINS.-Dr. ROBERT 11. CUMMINS, one of the leading physicians and most highly esteemed citizens of Wheeling, died at the residence of his mother near Bellaire at an early hour Saturday morning. The sad ovent had been expected several days. It made as profound an impression as any death that has occurred here for a long time. Dr. Cummins was known intimately to so many families in the city in his capacity as a physician, who feel his loss as that of a near friend, and was so universally esteemed for his personal virtues, that there is a wide spread feeling of bereave-intered in a dealing for help. As the drew near he heard that a little boy had fallen into the canal. Being a good swimmer, he jumped into the water and rescued the boy, but life was extinct. He at the same momont recognized the lad as his own little son. cians and most highly esteemed citizens there is a wide spread feeling of bereavement that seldom attends the death of an individual however prominent. The story of his life and the leading features of his character are summarized by a friend in another column. We can add nothing to the estimate there placed upon the character of our deceased fellow citizen, save to add that it is a just tribute to his many B's father takes the benefit of the banknoble qualities.

OUR CHARLESTON CORRESPONDENCE. -Our faithful and intelligent correspondent "HENRY." who has kept the readers of the INTELLIGENCER well posted for the past four months on the doings of the Legislature and the aspects of public quesons at Charleston, lurnishes his concluding letter this morning. We regret that for the present "HENRY'S" sprightly correspondence will cease. His letters have been copied and quoted, by both Democratic and Republican papers throughout the State. Froons Moving Against the Indians LAVA BED, April 11, via YREKA, Apri 2.-Yesterday afternoon five Indians and our squaws came into our camp and were made presents of clothing and provisions by the Peace Commission, and a message was sent out by the Commissioners ask ing for a talk this morning at a point about a mile from our picket line. Later in the evening Bogus Charley came and told the picket that he could take his gun, that he (Charley) did not intend to go back any more. The picket brought him back any more. The picket brought him in and took him to the tent of Gen Canby, where Charley left his gun and remained at the tent of Frank Riddle luring the night. This morning Boston oners that Capt. Jack and five other ndians would meet the Commissioners utside of our lines. Boston Char Bogus Charley both then unted their horses and started for he Lava Bed. About an hour after their leparture, Gen. Canby, Dr. Thomas, Mr. B. Meachem and Mr. Diar, with Frank Riddle and his squaw for interpreters started for the place appointed. The party arrived at the appointed place, and re closely watched by the Signal Offier, Lieutenant Adams, from the Signal Station on the hill overlooking our camp and at half an hour after the party had arrived, a cry from the Signal Station was neard saying that the Indians had attacked the Peace Commissioners and that an engagement had commenced between the Indians and Col. Mason. In a momen unrow out all the latter items of the state-ment as having no possible connection with the first, but the test established the point for which we were contention point for which we were contending—that this could only be a mental effort to which some men the question was asked. If we had not witnessed such exhibitions we should suppose that a question proposed by our Indians had attacked them and that he thought he was the only one who had escaped; but in a few moments afterRiddle witnessed such exhibitions we should suppose that a question proposed by our

as a quiz. He supposes the case of a hunter pursuing a squirrel who dodges

Now comes the all-important query:
Has the gunger, having thus gone around ing account of how the massacre com menced: Meacham made a short speech to the Indians followed by Gen. Canby and then Dr. Thomas; then Capt. Jack made a speech asking for Hot Creek and Cottonwood the places now occupied by Fairchild and Davis for a reservation.

The Favorite Soap The storm to-day has been the most se vere one of the season. The tide is very high and at the ferries great difficulty was experienced in getting heavily laden trucks on and off the boats. The cellars slong the river fronts were flooded, and in some instances valuable merchandise was damaged. A large fleet of vessels was also detained.
